Detailed Action

Claims 1-120 are pending in this Office Action.

Claims 1-120 are subject to election / restriction requirement and are withdrawn from consideration.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-43, are drawn to the details of a probe for monitoring and collecting performance data, classified in class 709, subclass 202.
- II. Claims 44-64 are drawn to a system to monitor performance with a probe, base station, database, server interface, and allocation with tables and negotiators, classified in class 709, subclass 223.
- III. Claims 65-106 are drawn to a monitoring and correlating data from different domains, with probes each registered and controlled through a browser with inactivity or self destructing, classified in class 709, subclass 208.
- IV. Claim 107-111 are accessing a probe and setting and updating parameters, classified in class 709, subclass 220.
- V. Claim 112-121 are drawn to a method and computer readable medium for collecting, correlating, and reporting to a base station performance data, classified in class 709, subclass 224.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reason:

Invention Groups I –V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention in Group I has separate utility such as locating network resources from first identifiers. See MPEP § 806.05(c). Invention in Group II has separate utility and is a method for sending an email.

Inventions in Group I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are (1) probe for monitoring and collecting performance data; (2) system to monitor performance with a probe, base station, database, server interface, and allocation with tables and negotiators; (3) monitoring and correlating data from different domains, with probes each registered and controlled through a browser with inactivity or self destructing; (4) accessing a probe and setting and updating parameters; and (5) method and computer readable medium for collecting, correlating, and reporting to a base station performance data.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reason given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 2155

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Applicant is reminded that to traverse this requirement on the grounds that the groups are not patentably distinct, applicant should present evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the groups to be obvious variations of one another. If the groups are determined not to be patentably distinct and they remain in this application, any rejection of one group over prior art will apply equally to all other embodiments. See Ex parte Appeal No. 315-40, 152 USPQ 71 (Bd. App. 1965). No argument asserting patentability based on the differences between the groups will be considered once the groups have been determined to comprise a single inventive concept.
